1515All up Front @ Oxshott Sports Club*7 May 2013

Nice, bright clear evening, a good area for running, led by our esteemed Hare, All up Front, who knows about these things. There were no wild boar in the woods tonight!! We sauntered off, all relaxed, and our adventure through the woods was excellent, plus some Bluebells on route. Visitors tonight were Charlie 'Brown Nose' who used to run with us TEN years ago....yes ! Great to see you...we expect more visits now. Calamity and Worzel graced our presence, enjoying themselves, and Simon & Charlotte pushed on hard, very impressed. Knickers too, here again, excellent news!

Animals were scarcely seen tonight, a few horses, and a mad young resident who sprinted out of his house into the alley, and crashed straight into Dingaling, who surprisingly did not fall over! Ruth & Alan did not have to decide what to eat afterwards, this week. All Up Front did us proud again, laying on lashings of food, bread and cheeses, hams, tomatoes and even mini Chocolate brownies to wolf down, when no one was looking, delicious was heard! A typical rousing Weybridge Hash, followed by laid back in the Clubhouse chairs....On On.....

1516Ruth & Alan @ The Three Horseshoes*14 May 2013

Wet, wet, wet sums up this trail but what would be the sopping fun in missing all the precipitation. Pelt, beat, teem, tip, sheet, lash, cats and dogs down it did but the inclemency did not dampen the enthusiasm of moist. The closing of Walton bridge and a torrent of traffic did not douse the efforts of some who set off after an already soaked crowd had squelched out into waterlogged Shepperton.

Dastardly checks and washed out flour soon has the pack split and floundering hoping in vain for a trail heading off round the beauty of the gravel pits which was not to be. Thanks to the observational powers of strangers and pure grit and determination we eventually regrouped at the top of the motorway bridge and poured back towards the high street to within a welcome spitting distance of the pub. But oh no the trail lead us away mizzeling and lashing the hares with a torrent of grumbles down the back streets towards the playing fields and river. Finally at the green as the pub hove into view for a second time there was a deluge of dissent as all the SCB proved to be limp lettuces and headed in its direction. A very scenic path through the woods and along the river was next but after that our appetite for the rain wind and cold had worn thin and the rest of the wets short cutted home. Worzel the stalwart was the only hasher ? to complete the trail around the old square. Once the final old soaks got back to the pub not a drip or drop of beer was to be had as the beer was off and took age to come through. The late comers, Drain Oil and steaming bodies jammed into a little room at the back to drown our sorrows and shower the hares with compliments. An excellent run, good turn out and a night to remember.

1517Spanish Mistress & Mark @ The Castle Grove*21 May 2013

Well Sherlock here is stumped, even though said Scribe looked at the map. Our run Tuesday evening, was jolly spiffing, even if he cannot say where we went! Horsell Common, we did not reach, Chobham Common we did, plus a lot of fine houses in their beautiful green settings for all to see, and some salubrious Nursing Homes... any takers? Mark was concerned as the horses kept eating the flour he laid, and Spanish Mistress well... ..erm..she just kept riding the horses, round and round her favourite field, ignoring his protestations!! Our visitors tonight were Casey and her son Ned, all the way from Reigate way, very nice to meet you both!

We hope to see you again soon please. Tracy & Kerry were back, keen as ever, doing their Jessica Ennis impressions! Hanging About was back from North Hants HHH, to keep us smiling, and lift all our spirits, he looks like he has robbed the Bank of Englandmaybe just maybe. Which branch did he work in? Mother Brown, Tossler & even Great Bear graced us with their company, the pesky varmits, oh no that's Wasser and All Up Front, both delighting in reminding poor Dingaling of his nightmare 2hr hash, here last time ! How kind are they both ...? Nearest pig's trough anyone ? Wasser even thoughtfully reminding

The poor man, that he is indeed much older than he thought. Too kind, Frankie Boyle. Much generosity from our hares, and sumptuous plates of chips kept on appearing, poor Simon, and Molesey Matt were starving. Great night was had by all.

1518Pigpen @ The Percy Arms*28 May 2013

The numbers swelled rapidly as the hour approached. Lots of our runners fancied this lost hidden paradise in the trees. Even the pub was closed down, the power of nature! We had Mother Brown, Great Bear, Kung Foo Panda, Naked Chef and all the great and the good were up for this one, and they were not disappointed. We ran through soft bracken Blackheath Forest , and some of the other names, Well...there was Mustard Copse, Jelley's Copse, and even Mustard Copse was like an Army fitness course for the TAs. Pig Pen created his usual quality 6 mile run, to entertain us all, with lots of checks to bring our runners together, but Ruth was heard to utter...'not another check! Mark & Spanish Mistress were galloping along, even after a hard day, bravo. My, my.....even Len was up for this, but got lost near the end, and starting knocking on doors. Tracy very kindly went out looking for him, then into the pub he strode, after a lift in someone's van!

A great adventure in the great outdoors, on a lovely evening, what more can you ask when you visit The Surrey Hills? Be there for the next one.....I can't wait ! Weybridge Hash rules.....

Matt @ The Bell

4 June 2013

A quiet surprising Summers day greeted all arrivals for this Run, which some thought would just be a meander round the back streets! Oh no, we have a new Kid on the Block, a right little tiger he is too... Birthday girl Louise set us off on our merry way, across the river Mole, and into the back streets of posher Molesey. We then came back down to Hampton Court bridge, and along the Thames footpath we went, past the rowing club, and the cricket club too.

No shortcutting here, we then to our surprise got taken half way to Walton Bridge before nipping through West Molesey , and cleverly back along the Mole footpath and a winding route in to the pub. The Bell has been here since 1460, even older than Wasser then, Mother Brown was reminiscing, perhaps ten years ago, he was in here! Guests tonight included Dr Death aka Peter, also Knickers, and Call Girl too! Also Charlie was back again, with Top Man in tow. We congregated in the garden, with the heat lamps on, as the jolly evening unfolded celebrating lovely Louise's birthday from yesterday with delicious chocolate cake yummys ,41 she is, you know!!

A great night was had, and thank you Molesey Matt, you did us proud. Until the next time then....

No page three as such this week, with no special news to report!
